

Virtual Village

It can be difficult to feel close to someone when we can't see them, especially in confusing times. Create a map of your own virtual village to show just how many people can help you, then plan ways you can connect with them virtually! Whether it's by text message, video call, or even a good old-fashioned letter, keep friends and loved ones close to your heart, even if you can't be close by.

When I need a smile,
I'll connect with:

When I need to ask questions, I'll connect with:

When I need a shoulder to cry on, I'll connect with:

When I need to laugh,
I'll connect with:

When I need to share ideas,
I'll connect with:

When I need to help
someone, I'll connect with:
